Consensus Consulting Expands International Operations with Opening of German Office in Munich

German Operation to Focus on Providing IT Business Concept Services for Small to Medium Sized Businesses

Cambridge, February 28, 2006 – Consensus Consulting has extended its International Operations with the opening of a new office in Germany, under the direction of European Operations Director, Tony Whalley. This is part of the evolving strategy to enhance the company's business service offerings with the introduction of IT Services focused on the Small to Medium sized Business sector (SME) in this key German marketplace.

“Over the last six months SME customer's have been telling us that they need a trusted IT services partner who can identify and implement IT requirements in line with their business strategy, leaving the client to focus on developing and building their business”, said Alan Henderson CEO of Consensus Consulting, “This announcement indicates our resolve to provide this services and technology solutions focus for SME clients in the German marketplace..”

Built around the core InsightSM and FoundationSM range of services, these specialised Business ConceptSM solutions provide additional services and packaged solutions to SME's. Consensus Consulting in conjunction with technology solutions partners such as Active Intelligence and Thamesbridge, will focus on releasing clients from IT development and implementation issues whilst allowing the client to utilise the latest IT technologies to develop their business.

The new German office will be managed by European Operations Director, Tony Whalley and is located in Munich, the heart of Germany,s IT and Manufacturing area.

The Business ConceptSM offerings will include:-

Concept Audit and IT Assessment Services – providing clients with an understanding of current IT implementation and any business exposures that limit business growth or expose the client to security issues.

Concept Planning – provides InsightSM Strategic Development and Business services, overall IT planning and IT implementation roadmap for technologies to enhance and protect the business.

Concept Delivery – includes Advantage Managed Services augmented by technology and service delivery with an “IT in a box” philosophy providing managed desktop, back office hosting, and WEB site hosting. Technology offerings include the potential of All-In-One PC’s and laptops on a purchased or managed service basis providing a full packaged service for an SME or business “start up”.
